

Booster Dose Eligibility

Updated December 22

Now eligible

Eligible to book if five months have passed since second dose.

People who are immunocompromised

Eligible to book if five months have passed since third dose

Residents of nursing homes and adult residential facilities

First Nation people

People 50 and older

The following individuals and their immediate household family members (18 years of age and older):

- Health-care workers
- School personnel
- Early childhood and daycare staff
- Nursing home and adult residential facility staff

People who have received one or two doses of the AstraZeneca vaccine, regardless of age

Eligible to receive an mRNA COVID-19 booster dose if 28 days have passed since their second dose

People who received one dose of the Janssen vaccine

Eligible to receive an mRNA COVID-19 booster dose if 28 days have passed since their first dose

People who received a mixed vaccine schedule and must travel outside of North America for essential reasons

Eligible to receive an mRNA COVID-19 booster dose if 28 days have passed since their second dose and they have a letter that shows their travel outside North America is for work, school or a medical appointment

Mid January

Eligible to book if five months have passed since second dose.

People 40 and older

Late January

Eligible to book if five months have passed since second dose.

People 30 and older

February

Eligible to book if five months have passed since second dose.

People 18 and older

Where to get your vaccine:

- Pharmacy
- Clinics through Horizon Health Network / Vitalité Health Network
- In-Home Clinics
- First Nations Community Clinics

Do not contact your vaccine provider until you are eligible to book a vaccine.

To register through a pharmacy:

Please consult the list of pharmacies in New Brunswick who are offering vaccine clinics and follow their steps to book your appointment.

Some pharmacies may have an online booking tool on their website. You are encouraged to check there before calling.

To register through a clinic: Visit gnb.ca/bookavaccine or call 1-833-437-1424.

Only eligible groups may book online. Please only call to book an appointment.